Vice President & Recording Secretary were noted absent at roll call.

Minutes of regular business meeting of Feb 4th were read, & approved as corrected.

The only business transacted was a short report from the Committee on the affair for Apr. 29; the name, May Festival & Shakespearean Pageant being adopted.

The Chair was then given to Miss Andrews, one of the Faculty of Mills College, brought by Mrs. Dubbing, who spoke most comprehensively on Pageantry, showing how it had been very popular in the earliest ages of history and the wonderful appeal it makes to all people.

Its revival came about in the beginning of this century when Louis Parker introduced the wonderful historical pageants in England. In America it has been taken up on an even more elaborate scale and many different themes used, tho' the provider of historical always proved the best. After many helpful hints to the Club for the coming Festival the meeting adjourned to take tea & dainty wafers, served by the hostess, Mrs. B. F. Campbell.

Annual Report of R. Secretary
Mar 3, 1916.

Listen dear ladies and you shall hear,
Of this twelvemonths events in the clubs career,
(In the year 1900 plus ten and five)
And all of us glad to be alive
To remember that Exposition year.

Dame Stofen consented to lead our band
~~And~~ if we would lend her a helping hand—
To do some good- to grow more wise,
To make the Club-house materialize,
So she said, "Come ladies, lets make the fund grow."
Three card parties followed, successfully, I trow,
With fun for the players and gold for our sack,
And all who attended were sure to come back.

And then in the summer your old clothes you brought,
And rummaged your garrets for bonnets you tho't
Might still be of use, and some bric-a-brac too,
That you had decided was useless to you—
And most of it sold—with Dame Cowgills good aid,
Of the rest, a donation to Lytton was made.
Another donation has monthly been made
To help the great work of the Travellers Aid—
(Which saves guileless girls from the horrible fate
Which often secures them, if guarded too late.)

And meantime our members both up and down,
Wandered and watched with eagle ear,
To do some good for Sonoma town,
Till nothing be left imperfect here.
Through our efforts, Memorial Day
Was observed by the churches in a suitable way.
And now at the depot what joy fills our cup!
We requested politely that lights be put up.
And besides, a young man who studied the art
Of laying out parks, came and offered his part
In improving our plaza, to make it a gem
For the valleys adornment—in our fair diadem,
City Fathers have helped us—the plans are all laid,
The plaza a permanent ~~lasting~~ joy will be made.

It was June by the calendar
When we held the pleasant Garden Fete
At the Duhring home, and no bolt nor bar
Was fast, but all enjoyed till late
The "Ring-a-duck and archery."
Neath the merry greenwood tree,
And the gypsy gathered many a bit
Of silver for her ready wit.
And dollars clinked and grew so fast
That a hundred and more was the score at last.
It was New Years Eve by the clock,
When our capable Mrs. Burlingame
With assistants known to you by name,
Served the band boys supper, by which our stock
Was swelled by a 60 dollar block.

You know the rest from reports you have seen—
Of executive meetings just two there have been,
Of regular, eighteen, four dropped by the way
Through lack of a quorum of ladies that day;
The average attendance for business, thirteen; some
For tea and a wafer, ten more, I ween.
An item to note, to our membership list
Some seven were added, and one whom we've missed
Has been made Honorary— we're sure that her heart
Is here to encourage, tho' she dwell apart.

So through the year has the work progressed,
With aim to accomplish what is best.
Some through the year have the speakers come
From the University by the Bay,
To strengthen our minds and cheer the way—
Dr. Morgan, Miss Clarke, with helps for the home,
Prof. Herms, on sanitation, malarial ills,
Professor Stevens, the gardener, Miss Andrews from Mills
Whose points on the pageant we hope soon to apply.
While others, home speakers, brought us often a treat
And filled social meetings with pleasures replete.
